ANNE ARUNDEL COUNTY

INTRODUCTION

The Harvest Guide has been prepared by the Anne Arundel Economic Development Corporation and the Anne Arundel County Soil Conservation District to help you identify sources for local products and services within Anne Arundel County. This guide will help you locate and purchase agricultural commodities directly from Anne Arundel County Farms. Farm services and farm agencies as well as farm supply and implement dealers located in the region are also listed. The guide also identifies sources to purchase locally grown produce, meats and other products. Restaurants that use local ingredi-ents in their recipes are also listed. The online guide updated quarterly can be found at www.aaedc.org/initiatives.

THANKS FOR BUYING LOCAL

In the United States, food travels approximately 1,500 miles from the farm to your plate. Food grown in your community was probably picked within a day or two of your purchase, making it fresher and healthier for your family.

When you buy from a local farmer you are supporting that farm and your local economy, preserving the agricultural heri-tage of Anne Arundel County, and keeping farms financially viable. So remember, Get Fresh and Buy Local.

BE A PART OF OUR HARVEST GUIDE!

If you own or manage a farm, farm stand, market, store, restaurant or other farm related business we would like to include you in our guide. There is no cost or obligation to be listed. The guide will be updated quarterly, so it is never too late to be listed. For additional information call 410-222-7410.

At Annapolis' very own vineyard & winery, we are producing small production artisanal wines from our grapes grown on the water's edge of South River, Harness Creek and Aberdeen Creek. We tend the vineyard brutality by hand and work hard to create beautiful wines to pair with other local farmers' meats, produce, cheese and bread.

Mentors receive strong support from research and field experts in pasture management, fencing and watering systems. It also gives farmers the opportunity to improve their marketing skills or start a direct marketing operation. The project is funded by the Chesapeake Bay Funders Network.
